EXECUTIVE PROFILE

Brigadier General Ramon G. Santos (Ret.) is a distinguished Filipino military officer, senior government executive and institutional strategist with over five decades of combined experience across national defence, presidential-level policy advisory, energy and environmental regulation, civil defence and renewable-energy development. He retired from the Philippine Army in 2005 with the rank of Brigadier General after 31 years of active service, and transitioned directly to senior civilian government roles.

His profile is of exceptional value to investors as the Company's primary interface with Philippine government and regulatory institutions. As a former Undersecretary at the Office of the President (Malacañang), the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) and the Department of Energy (DOE), he brings unparalleled institutional access, regulatory-navigation capability and stakeholder credibility. His diplomatic postings as Military Attaché to France and Cultural Attaché to China extend his network across two major economies, and his ongoing Office of Civil Defense consultancy reinforces his national-government reach.
